The venture leader

Weill David is an Engineer in Microtechnology specialised in subcontracting, he has 7 years of know-how in the medical industrial field with 2 industrial and commercial "success-stories". David major skill is to be able to bring an idea to a reliable serially produced device in the medical field. David went through the overall industrial path from Project Leader, through product manager, R&D Director and ended as CEO. David also worked in the Swiss luxury watch industry. In 2004 he decided to build his own research company and developed the world leading award winning product that is now known under the name of PRECIQUANT. On his free time, when he had some, David loved hiking, skiing, diving, riding his motorbike and setting his home cinema system as he is also a THX certified installer!

The Company / project

PRIMEQUAL is a Swiss Medical device company created in 2006. PRIMEQUAL is specialized in innovative medical consumables. Primequal is an ISO 13485 fully certified company and all products are CE marked. PRIMEQUAL PRECIQUANT was launched on the dental market in 2007 under the name of Saniject. PRIMEQUAL has obtained the highly coveted CTI Certification from the Swiss Government, testimonial of its high innovation and its high market potential.

PRIMEQUAL PRECIQUANT Dental Anaesthesia is the first painless single use syringe for Dental local anaesthesia. Design alleviates patient anxiety and is known to improve cooperation in paediatrics. Children are highly appreciating the "spaceship" like device, its patented simple assembly and its patented pain removing pressure limiter. PRECIQUANT ergonomics fits all hand sizes and provides a precise metered dosing of the liquid. PRECIQUANT is safer than current syringes by fully preventing cross-contamination through a single use mechanism: after first injection the syringe cannot work anymore.

PRIMEQUAL is now working to raise funds to deploy the PRECIQUANT technology in 5 selected fields with a strong 77 millions Swiss francs market potential: Medical Botulinum Toxin Injection, Medical Hyaluronic Acide / Collagen Injection, Dental Paste, Dental Glues and Do It Yourself Rapid Glue. Each version of the PRECIQUANT Injector – Dozer will allow a comfortable, precise, dose per dose delivery of the product in a single use – disposable award winning sexy device.

PRIMEQUAL will be profitable in 2008 and 2009. PRIMEQUAL is looking to raise CHF 2,5 millions Swiss francs to pursue product development and develop sales. For more information please contact us on www.primequal.com
